

Call for Conference Proposals

Seventh Annual meeting of the Georgia Psychological Society

Saturday, March 31st 2012

*At the new Psychology Building on the campus of Valdosta State University
1500 North Patterson Street
Valdosta, Georgia*

Submissions due March 6, 2012, please see our website for details:
GeorgiaPsychologicalSociety.org

Faculty, professionals, graduate students, and undergraduate students in psychology and related fields are invited to submit papers for possible presentation. Submissions in basic and applied areas of psychology, and interdisciplinary topics will be considered. Possible interdisciplinary topics include psychological factors in education, nursing, sports, politics, and management.

Preliminary Conference schedule: Saturday, March 31st

Welcome, Refreshments and Registration (8 am to 9 am)

General Poster Session (9am to 10:30 am)

Paper Sessions

Keynote Address: Lynn McCutchensen (Editor, North American Journal of Psychology)
Title: Putting Celebrities to work for you in your senior research seminar

Psi Chi Poster Session (1 pm to 2 pm)

Honors Poster Session (1 pm to 2 pm)

Presentations and Symposia

Presentation proposals (250 word abstracts, or full papers) are due by Tuesday, March 6th, 2012 to crtalor@valdosta.edu. Submissions should be in MSWord or RTF format. Full submission instructions are available at: GeorgiaPsychologicalSociety.org.

Registration is $20 for students, $30 for faculty and professionals, includes yearly membership in GPS. Lunch and mid-morning snacks provided at conference.

For additional details contact Charles R. Talor at crtalor@valdosta.edu, Blaine L. Browne at blbrowne@valdosta.edu, or Steven J. Kohn at sjkohn@valdosta.edu

GPS Collaborators and Sponsors: Department of Psychology and Counseling at Valdosta State University, Department of Psychology at Georgia Southern University, Department of Psychology at Columbus State University, Epsilon Pi chapter of STTI at the College of Nursing at Valdosta State University, Psi Chi Chapters at Georgia Southern University and Valdosta State University.